Evolution of MATLAB

FRIDAY, December 2, 2011, at 3:30 PM

133 Eckhart Hall, 5734 S. University Avenue (unless announced otherwise).

ABSTRACT

We show how MATLAB has evolved over more than 30 years from a simple matrix calculator to a powerful technical computing environment. We demonstrate several examples of MATLAB applications. We conclude with a discussion of future developments, including Parallel MATLAB for multicore and multicomputer systems.
